

New Jersey's Defense Industry Hotbed Are We Taking It For Granted?

The defense industry is the State's 2nd largest employer and yet none of the State's leaders are talking about its impact on New Jersey's economy or what policies and investments need to be made to support this critical economic sector. PlanSmart NJ is bringing together industry leaders and planners to address these issues in a half-day conference on June 13, 2013. The conference is expected to attract 200 of New Jersey's leaders including architects, engineers, attorneys, planners, and municipal officials.
